ATTENTION ALL HARES

IT IS YOUR DUTY TO GET GINGER BEER & ICE, REMEMBER THAT HARES MOST IMPORTANT PLEASE. "GET IT COZ IT'S YOUR JOB"

ALSO, IF YOU HAVE A RUN CUMMING UP, DON'T FORGET TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS TO COLLECT THE TRAILER FROM THE PREVIOUS RUN SITE. IF SOMEONE ELSE IS TOWING THE TRAILER FOR YOU, IT WOULD BE A GOOD GESTURE TO THROW THEM A SIX PACK

1756 16th Nov Far View st Ridgehaven

With the scheduled hare having to slip out of town, the run was subcontracted back to the Trailmaster, who in turn subcontracted the run to W*ankor. Unfortunately W*ankor was filling in for Elton John on the day and so in turn subcontracted the run to the Fearless Fingerb*um. When he in turn tried to subcontract the run, the only likely victim he could find had just arrived down from Iron Knob on a Honda Four-Stroke.

Anticipating an impending disaster, W*ankor, proceeded to give Fingerb*um and Ronnie a crash course on how to set a run, W*ankor style, quickly running through the basic ingredients of trail, checks, p*iss stops and falsies, before heading off for a guest appearance at a Princess Diana memorial concert.

Calling on his chef's experience, Fingerb*um formulated the perfect recipe for the run: Take the b*astards on a winding trail to the Golden Grove Tavern. Enjoy a two-hour p*iss stop at the Tavern. Lay another winding trail back to the trailer.

After mixing a lethal concoction of flour, lime and ceiling plaster the dynamic duo headed off with two big sacks and a shovel to dish out the "arras"! Based on Elton John's guidance, they proceeded to lay what would surely qualify for the run of the year.

As Chef Fingerb*um will tell you, the proof of the pudding is in the eating, and at 7.10pm the group of runners headed off in the direction of Milne Road. The trail was indeed clearly marked with piles of flour that looked like they had fallen straight out of the rear end of a horse. After following the trail for more than a kilometre, however, it appeared that the hares had overlooked the need for checks. Thankfully, Muck decided to fabricate his own first check and called a halt just after the Redwood Park shops.

Heading up the hill into Redwood Park we eventually encountered the real first check. Despite the loops through the housing area, the front-runners could sense that we were heading for the Golden Grove Tavern and after several minutes the pack grouped at the Tavern hoping for a p*iss stop.

Unfortunately, the hares had not fully understood the concept of a p*iss stop, and, while they had proceeded to enjoy a two-hour p*iss stop for themselves, they had failed to make any arrangements for the poor b*loody runners.

After recovering from the disappointment of not getting a p*iss stop (Yes, Anyfink you made the right call again!), we were soon making our way along Grenfell Road, wondering why we seemed to be encountering some of the checks going backwards. Had C*ocknee also been involved in the briefing of the hares?

Despite some confusion regarding the direction of the "arras", the checks managed to keep the pack together well, including a cunning check near Hancock Road which managed to demote Krème Puff from the front to the back of the pack. After an equally cunning check on Riverside Drive, we were surprised to see Angel come charging down the road, having run down the pack after giving them 10 minutes head start (almost bordering on competitive).

After threading us on a loop through the a*rse-end of Ridgehaven, the trail eventually turned for home, and we were soon back at the trailer enjoying our well deserved beers. General consensus back at the trailer was that it had been a pretty good run, with probably the biggest "arras" that we had ever seen on a run (surprising since the hares had only used 60Kg of flour and 2 sacks of lime!).

Having survived the subcontracted run, many of the runners had worked up a serious thirst, and after a long circle, including many charges and "announcements", there were a number looking much worse for wear. Thankfully, the hares had done a great job of subcontracting the nosh and after so many beers the nosh was well and truly appreciated.

Many thanks to all the contractors, sub-contractors and sub-sub-contractors who contributed to a great Monday evening!
