ATTENTION ALL HARES

IT IS YOUR DUTY TO GET GINGER BEER & ICE, REMEMBER THAT HARES MOST IMPORTANT PLEASE. "GET IT COZ IT'S YOUR JOB"

ALSO, IF YOU HAVE A RUN CUMMING UP, DON'T FORGET TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS TO COLLECT THE TRAILER FROM THE PREVIOUS RUN SITE. IF SOMEONE ELSE IS TOWING THE TRAILER FOR YOU, IT WOULD BE A GOOD GESTURE TO THROW THEM A SIX PACK

There probably could have been more than 20 head off on the run, however, when the hares warned of the dangers of heights, tunnels, trains, rivers and vagrants, the starting pack was reduced to only 7 brave athletes.

Based on the clues given by the hares, it was clear that waterproof jocks and torchlight would definitely be an advantage on this run as the first challenge would be to get across the mighty Torrens. Threading along the river bank, the front runners eyed a suitable place to cross but we were all relieved to discover the footbridge which sits on top of the weir across the river.

With a check in the car park soon after, we were confronted with a wealth of choices – golf, tennis, cricket, swimming or rowing. Pretty soon the front-runners had it sussed and the pack was soon making its way across the seventh fairway, confident that not even the most hardened a*rsehole golfers would be teeing off at this hour.

A cunning check at the base of Colonel Light had the front runners puzzled for a while, with trail eventually being found towards Palmer Place, leading the pack up into the heart of North Adelaide. With trail heading up the ramps to a local shopping centre, the pack came out at the top-level gym, where the envious w*ankers on their treadmills got to see first hand what REAL athletes do on a Monday night to keep in the peak of physical condition!

With plenty of checks and good use of the byways and alleys, the pack was held together well, and the Magnificent Seven made its way as a group through the rest of North Adelaide before heading along the side of the railway tracks in the direction of Brompton.

Eventually coming out on the Port Road, the pack gathered in anticipation at a check outside the Bikini Massage Parlour. Being last to arrive, Bus Stop was despatched to investigate the trail that led right up to the front door. Striding in confidently, he was immediately welcomed by a bikini clad young lady who appeared ready to address any needs he may have had. On seeing his hash t-shirt however, her manner quickly changed, and he was quickly shovelled out of the door and politely advised that they had seen enough stingy hash b*astards for the day.

Confused, and with tail between the legs, Bus Stop joined the rest of the pack checking along the Port Road. With Bigus, Muck, Chesty and Elf checking on the other side of the road, Buddha and Sp*oof soon found trail down past the pub. As the pack came together to cross at the lights, they saw the welcome sight of a p*iss stop, quietly concealed at the edge of Bonython Park.

After a welcome beer, the pack was soon sprinting the last kilometre back to the run site, where there would be plenty more beers to enjoy. Safe at the trailer, there was general agreement that it had been a bl*oody good run, despite all the hazards, with good checks and false trails that kept the pack together well. The inevitable post mortems discussed the checks and false trails but the hares made no mention of any significant encounters while setting the run. Thankfully the Adelaide Advertiser of Tuesday 18th August may shed some light:

Adelaide police reported a quiet evening Monday despite earlier warnings for the Adelaide Gaol area. Stepped up patrols in the vicinity of the Adelaide Entertainment Centre, however, discovered more of the strange white powder that has been encountered in the North Eastern suburbs during recent weeks.

Detectives followed a trail of the suspicious powder to the premises of the Bikini Massage Parlour in Hindmarsh. After 12 hours of interviews and interrogations, police discovered that two suspicious individuals had attended the establishment earlier on Monday afternoon. Detectives discovered that these sweaty individuals had entered the establishment, enquiring on what services were available on a budget of seventy dollars. After intense negotiation, the two individuals settled for a head job at twenty-five dollars each. Staff reported that the individuals spoke a strange dialect, continually rambling about checks and falsies. Staff became particularly suspicious when the pair demanded a receipt for services performed stating “Hash Nosh”.

Further investigation revealed that the smiling pair was subsequently seen crossing the Port Road, before entering a local supermarket and making enquiries regarding the purchase of sufficient food to feed thirty hungry individuals, on a budget of only twenty dollars. The pair was subsequently seen walking down Port road carrying a bag of lime, a sack of rice and five cans of Chile con Carne, heavily discounted as they were all well past the use by date.

The pair was last reported disappearing on foot into Bonython Park. Police are keen to apprehend the two suspicious individuals, and are also keen to interview thirty hungry individuals who may also be able to help them with their enquiries. They have also advised accountants and tax agents to be suspicious of anyone presenting receipts for “Hash Nosh”, and to treat such documents with extreme suspicion. Anyone encountering such documents is requested to contact Crime Stoppers as a matter of urgency.

Acting on information from the public, police have advised residents of the Mitcham area to be especially vigilant during the coming week. The Special Investigations Branch, however, has advised that they will continue to focus their attention on the Hindmarsh area, with thirty-six detectives volunteering to assist with follow-up investigations at the Bikini Massage Parlour!
