ATTENTION ALL HARES

IT IS YOUR DUTY TO GET GINGER BEER & ICE, REMEMBER THAT HARES MOST IMPORTANT PLEASE. "GET IT COZ IT'S YOUR JOB"

ALSO, IF YOU HAVE A RUN CUMMING UP, DON'T FORGET TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS TO COLLECT THE TRAILER FROM THE PREVIOUS RUN SITE. IF SOMEONE ELSE IS TOWING THE TRAILER FOR YOU, IT WOULD BE A GOOD GESTURE TO THROW THEM A SIX PACK

When the hares warned us to watch out for kangaroos, koala bears and old ruins, we all had a pretty good idea where we would be heading. When the hares pushed us out the back gate our fate was sealed, and we were soon heading off in the direction of the pipeline. Hopefully, their hints that they would see us again in a couple of hours would not eventuate.

A difficult first check saw the whole pack chasing a false behind the pipeline before discovering trail took us back towards the housing area. With Buddha having little interest in seeing wild animals, a twisted ankle gave him the opportunity to abort for home.

Lucky Ewe lived up to his name and was lucky enough to inherit Buddha's torch, having forgotten both his torch and the anchor.

As promised by the hares, there were plenty of kangaroos and koalas rustling in the bush as we made our way towards Anstey's Hill. With heavy rain earlier in the day, there was plenty of shiggy which saw Moped, Elf and Muck tumbling at various places along the trail.

About one hour into the run, we encountered the old ruins, and were reasonably confident that we would soon be turning in the direction of home. The hares, however, had other plans, and we were soon taking an extra loop before eventually starting on the long descent back down to Vista.

Having lost Muck and Moped at the second to last check, the rest of the pack followed trail, eventually arriving home by 8.30pm. Despite the length of the run, there was general agreement that it had been a pretty good warm-up for the City to Bay, with good checks that kept the pack together for most of the run.
