Hash Trash 19th July 2010 - Run 1792

Lookout Claremont Rd Springhill, Golden Grove

19 Runners

The venue was reminiscent of a Helmut run except we were up north where it is green and he had runs down south where it is bitumen. That is where the differences end. It was cold, it was windy, we were on top of a bloody great hill and it was raining!!

As C*ocknee called the runners together to deliver his spiel, The RA raised his hands in a symbolic communication to Him upstairs. RA has had only one run since his reign began where it has not rained and he was determined, even though it had rained since his arrival at the venue that this was going to be his second night.

C*ocknee started, "Trail was set yesterday, when it was raining so there are no arras. I have set trail in the spirit of our forefathers but not with paper tied to the trees, but with string that won't go limp when wet like paper does. There are no checks; there are no false trails, not a very long run and definitely no 'ills. On on is that way."

Low and behold, Moped had worked his RA magic and stopped the rain.

Off the runners set, down Claremont Road to Highgate Place to the second piece of string on the light pole. We looked down all roads from this point and found nuffin. From the bottom of the park on Castle Eaton St, we made our way still looking and found our way the bottom of the venue where C*ocknee met us to give us some advice as to where the trail was set. All we could smell was beer. Trail had done a complete circuit and headed off in the opposite direction it had started on. Double Entry, a visiting hasher from Warsaw, she was totally confused.

On we trudged, down the streets and up the non 'ills, with thoughts of an early drink stop at the GM's home. But that thought was thwarted by heading into the scrub, eventually re-emerging on Satsuma Cres. to wait at Golden Grove Road. Along there a short way and down into Hammersmith, following Eastleigh and Kings to Martindale. Up Martindale and down Martindale, along Martindale and up Gloucestershire to home. The stress and strain of no 'ills had left us hungry, but not hungry enough to have polished off C*ocknee's pappadams and dips before the pub hashers had returned.

A reasonable to good run considering being highly strung.

The RA called the circle and laid the following charges.....
