ATTENTION ALL HARES

IT IS YOUR DUTY TO GET GINGER BEER & ICE, REMEMBER THAT HARES MOST IMPORTANT PLEASE. "GET IT COZ IT'S YOUR JOB"

ALSO, IF YOU HAVE A RUN CUMMING UP, DON'T FORGET TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS TO COLLECT THE TRAILER FROM THE PREVIOUS RUN SITE. IF SOMEONE ELSE IS TOWING THE TRAILER FOR YOU, IT WOULD BE A GOOD GESTURE TO THROW THEM A SIX PACK

With the “Enlightened One” electing to conduct his run in his hometown of Coramandel Valley, the Northern Suburbs petrol stations did a roaring trade on Monday afternoon.

With most of the pack arriving early, we were soon to be briefed by the hare who promised a relatively SHORT run with NO hills, INTERESTING terrain, STRAIGHTFORWARD checks, and the ultimate sweetener – a combined P*ISS stop and SWIM stop.

A small group of runners was taken in by this description and after a brief stint of flat ground found themselves confronting the first check at the base camp of the first mountain. After exhausting all downhill possibilities, they were soon labouring up the mountain to the second check. By this stage the walkers had caught the pack, but instead of helping to break the check, the selfish a*rseholes elected to make a beeline for the hares house.

After finding trail downhill, we were soon back to sea level and threading our way through the walking trails of Sturt Creek. Tough checks (for a small group of runners) kept the pack together well, and eventually brought us back to Main Road. Here a cunning back check quickly promoted the back runners to the front, as the trail turned in the direction of more mountains, and hopefully the much anticipated p*iss stop.

After two more climbs and a long downhill stint we eventually encountered what was probably the second to last check, close to the hares housing area. With the experienced runners being able to smell the p*iss stop, there was consensus that we had seen enough hills and had fully earned a beer and a swim.

After a few more corners the beer aroma strengthened and we were soon beating a path to the hares back gate, thankfully encountering a large esky full of p*iss and the remainder of the walkers.

After a most welcome beer, it was a short downhill jog back to the trailer, or more accurately, back to IceCan’s Ute with a makeshift esky in the back.

Despite the absence of our usual green temple, and freezing winds, the pack was in b*loody good spirits and proceeded to devour the excellent nosh and beers. Given the number of hills on the run it would not have been unreasonable to expect the hare to have been lynched afterwards, but, to the surprise of many, he was actually congratulated on setting a b*loody good run.

As we made the long trip home, we could only marvel at the influence of “The Enlightened One”! After telling more lies than Bill Clinton, this reverent b*astard is not only showered with idols in the circle, he is then imitated by one of our long-standing members!

Many thanks to the hare for a very challenging run, great Nosh, and most enjoyable evening.

Wooden Leg Insurance

Always did find the New Zealand Logic different from most others!!

A man and his wife, moved back home to Wellington, from Sydney. The wife had a wooden leg and to insure it in Sydney was $2000.00 a year! When they arrived in Wellington, they went to an insurance agency to see how much it would cost to insure. The agent looked it up on the computer and said to the couple, '$39.00.'

The husband was shocked and asked why it was so cheap here in Wellington to insure, because it cost him $2000.00 in Sydney!

The agent turned his computer screen to the couple and said, 'Well, here it is on the screen, it says: *Any wooden structure, with a sprinkler system over it, is $39.00.*'

The Netherlands bans bestiality

The Netherlands has introduced new laws banning human sex with animals, effectively shutting down the main source of bestiality videos on the internet.

In the past, sex with animals had been legal in the Netherlands, providing the animals were not injured during intercourse, Reuters reports.

The Upper House of Dutch parliament introduced the new law which bars sex with animals in private situations as well as prohibiting the production and distribution of animal pornography, according to a summary posted on the parliament's website.

The bill was originally introduced into parliament in April 2007, but took nearly three years to pass through both the Lower and Upper house.

A 2007 survey from newspaper Algemeen Dagblad found Dutch distributors put out at least 80 percent of bestiality videos available around the globe.
